

Coffman Stairs Receives Recognition for Professional Builder magazine's "100 Best New Products 2008" Award

Professional Builder magazine recently honored Coffman Stairs' new Lite-Iron™ series from the Forged Iron Collection with a "100 Best New Products 2008" award. These awards spotlight product innovations and recognize and reward manufacturers that are investing in research and development. The publication noted that the Lite-Iron™ collection offers "bolder and lighter balusters with a hollow core that reduces weight while maintaining strength. The series is available in standard ½-inch or ¾-inch sizes for a bolder look. The line includes a full range of finishes, styles and accessories. "Professional Builder included the award winners in their June 2008 print edition, as well as in the June 13, 2008 Pro Builder Weekly and Custom Builder Update e-Newsletters.
